

DESERTED BABY, NICELY DRESSED, FOUND IN ROAD

Child Carried Into Nearby Church by Priest and Baptized.

Telling lustily and holding a bottle of milk in his hand, a boy baby, about one year old, was found lying at the side of the road in Grant, near Belmont avenue, at 3:45 A. M. to-day.

The child was lying almost directly opposite the handsome home of Frank Schaeffer, the attorney, and had been placed against the stone fence so that its body would not be crushed by passing vehicles.

The child's cries were heard by Frank Seibert, of One Hundred and Eighty-third street and Third avenue, who reported to the police of the Tremont station. Before a patrol wagon and an ambulance arrived the Rev. Father Healey, pastor of the Church of St. Martin de Tours, heard the cries of the child and, gathering it in his arms, carried it into the church and baptized it.

Dr. Dolan, the ambulance surgeon, said the child had not suffered from exposure and gave it as his opinion that it had not been out of the arms of its mother longer than an hour.

The police at first thought the child had fallen from some one of the many passing automobiles or vehicles that drive through Grant avenue, but the fact that the child held a bottle of milk, freshly filled, in its hand convinced them that it had been deserted by its mother who, after resting it carefully under the fence, had tucked its garments about it and stolen away.

It is not thought that the mother walked through the avenue, which was traversed by many men going to work at that hour, and none of them report having seen a woman walking with a child. The police believe, therefore, that the mother drove to the spot to desert her baby.

The baby was dressed in a white coat of an expensive material, a white silk cap, white skirts of flannel and flannel under clothes. Its complexion is dark, with dark hair and eyes. The child was pronounced very healthy and of unusual beauty.

The police are determined to find the mother of the child without outside assistance or not let her be discovered at all. Knowing that a photograph of the infant would aid in its quick identification, several newspaper photographers were sent to the Tremont station to-day, but the sergeant in charge refused to allow the child to be photographed. He would give no reason for his refusal.

When he sent the station-house matron with the infant to Bellevue Hospital he instructed her to keep its face covered and not to let the photographers get a snap shot of it. At Bellevue Hospital the infant was kept in a room where instructions against allowing the baby to be photographed. She was told that the police had a suspicion to keep the baby's identification from becoming known she had better take the infant elsewhere. So she took it to the City Building and there it was kept in a room near Third avenue. There it was accompanied by the police instructions regarding it. The sergeant in charge admitted that a photograph of the baby would probably lead to its identification, but said she had to obey the police instructions in restricting it.

IS SHOT DOWN FOR DEFENDING TWO NEGROES

Bartender May Die as Result of Wound Inflicted by Thug in Saloon.

Angry because he was not permitted to assault two negroes in the saloon of Elmer Brown, an ex-convict, at the northwest corner of Sixth avenue and Eleventh street, a man whose last name is Dunne and about whom little is known, shot down William Striker, a bartender, to-day, inflicting him so badly that little hope is advanced for his recovery.

Striker, who had been on duty all night, was behind the bar at 7 o'clock this morning when Dunne began abusing two negroes who were working about the saloon.

"That mustn't go on in here," said Striker. "You'd better get out, at any rate."

Dunne left the saloon, but returned a few minutes later, just as John Shells, the day bartender, came on duty. Striker was behind the bar talking with Shells, when Dunne came forward and yelled:

GIRL OF 12 FOUND DROWNED IN BAY

The body of an unusually pretty little girl, about twelve years old, was found floating in the bay on Board's stores, Brooklyn, to-day, by Arthur Carlin, of No. 104 Coffey street.

The child had very fair skin, short brown hair and blue eyes. She was about four feet tall, weighed seventy-five pounds and wore on the middle finger of her left hand a little gold-band ring, engraved with the letter 'H'.

Her clothing consisted of a blue spotted slingham dress, blue stockings with white dots, black buttoned shoes, a black and white striped undershirt and linen underclothing. The body had been in the water about a week. It is believed she fell from some steamboat into the bay, as she was dressed as if for a holiday.

STOCKING HINTS

"I have two pairs of white silk party stockings which, by the use of Diamond Dyes, have each had four or five different tints at different times to match colors. I would rather buy reduced price, badly colored light stockings and dye them myself than to buy any black stockings that could be sold at the same price."—Mrs. Caroline Burke, Emporia.

Diamond Dyes

They never crack or fade. They transform and make new again faded clothes—color ribbons to match new gowns—color feathers any tint. All druggists carry them. Only 40 cents. Ask for the Diamond Dyes Direction Book.
